Baltimore, Jan. 14.-Mrs. Frances Bertonia, sixty-four years old, of 853 West Franklin street, committed suicide at noon to-day by hanging herself in the secondstory front room at her home. It was said by her sister, Mrs. Hoagg, with negroes, charged with the murder of TRADES COUNCIL CONSIDERS whom she lived, that Mrs. Bertonia had been melancholy since the death of her nusband, two years ago.

This morning Mrs. Bertonia complained of feeling ill, and retired to her room. Shortly afterward her sister followed and tion Line-Fire Insurance Officers found her hanging from a hook on closet door.

She had hanged herself by tying a silk New Camp S. of C. V. to Be Started. handkerchief around her neck, and after putting the other end over the hook, had swung herself into space by kicking chair from under her. Mrs. Hoagg nurried to the kitchen, and, getting a large knife, cut the handkerchief, letting er sister down. She then notified th police. The woman died before medical aid could reach her.
